about COLOSSUS

Hidayatullah National Law University, located in Atal Nagar, isn't just a University; it's an emotion and all the other big words that you could use to describe a feeling of belonging. This year, perhaps for the first time in a very long time, all the students got together and stood united for a single cause- to make HNLU a better place. Our motto henceforth, is to try and make everything a notch better than how it was before.

If you do decide to attend our flagship event- Colossus, from February 15th to 17th, 2019- you'll finally understand the meaning behind 'bigger and better.' More events, cooler judges, bigger prizes and more dazzling pronites are all a part of the package this time. Explore our near 70 acre campus (which will be decorated specially, just for you guys) and make the most of all the cultural and sports events that are going to be conducted. We've got several new games and we can't wait to show them off to all of y'all.

Let one thing be made clear to anybody reading, though: there's no way that parties at HNLU can be made better. We have the best parties always. Period. Afterall, our previous editions have boasted of numerous pro nights with Coke studio, DJ Akbar Sami, Advaita, Underground Authority, just to name a few!

So, come on over- take a break from your hectic schedules and chill in our peaceful city. Reach new highs and relax, as we do all the work to make your stay the best experience possible.

“Rome wasn’t built in a day,” neither was Colossus. Be it a the tallest statue in the world (touched a nerve there, eh?) or a magnificent fest, you have to lay bricks every hour to make things happen.

It takes a lot more than just brick and mortar to build something as amazing as Colossus. While we can’t exactly reveal the recipe, because you know, family secrets, we can surely reveal a few key ingredients. Camaraderie, creative freedom, exciting prizes, bopping music and that mysterious little something in the air to get you flying high on the festive spirit - to name a few.

After the recent developments in our University, we are delighted to welcome you to our home, one that is all inclusive, one that promises a good time, and never fails to deliver on that promise.

Rest assured, we have many a tricks up our sleeves to leave you spellbound!
